Management Commentary

"First quarter 2023 cash receipts increased from the fourth quarter of 2022 and this strength has continued into the second quarter," said John Farlinger, Assure's executive chairman and CEO. "We collected approximately $4.5 million of cash and reduced our average days to collect the first payment on services rendered by 16 days in the first quarter. As a reminder, we experience seasonality during the first quarter each year as more of our volume is noncommercial, resulting in reduced revenue. During 2023, we have continued to experience weakness in reimbursement rates in certain markets that began in the second half of 2022. Although managed cases improved slightly year-over-year, gross revenue declined. However, we have continued making strides towards improving our cash receipts and reducing days to collect despite the challenging reimbursement environment that persists across the industry."

Farlinger continued, "On the cost side, we realized the benefits of the cost reduction actions we initiated in 2022 and the first quarter of 2023. Our operating expenses in the first quarter were down 26% compared to a year-ago and 19% sequentially, when normalized for $6.6 million in one-time, non-cash expenses in the fourth quarter of 2022."

Farlinger concluded, "We provide an essential service for surgeons, and demand for neuromonitoring remained robust in the first quarter of 2023. Intraoperative neuromonitoring is essential for invasive surgeries that place the nervous system at risk and is considered the 'standard of care' in the U.S. We are confident in the actions we are taking to reduce costs, increase velocity of cash collections and scale our business in markets with more attractive reimbursement rates and believe our financial results for the first quarter of 2023 demonstrate the progress of these actions."

The foregoing and following financial results are preliminary in nature. Final financial results and other disclosures will be reported in Assure's quarterly report for the quarter ended March 31, 2023 on Form 10-Q and may differ materially from the results and disclosures today due to, among other things, the completion of final review procedures, the occurrence of subsequent events or the discovery of additional information. The Form 10-Q is anticipated to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on May 15, 2023. You are encouraged to review the Form 10-Q in detail.

Explanation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This press release includes certain measures which have not been prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") such as Adjusted EBITDA. We define EBITDA as net income/(loss) before interest expense, provision for income taxes, depreciation and amortization. We calculate Adjusted EBITDA as EBITDA further adjusted to exclude the effects of the following items: share-based compensation and share option liability gain (loss). We exclude share-based compensation because this represents a non-cash charge and our mix of cash and share-based compensation may differ from other companies, which effects the comparability of results of operations and liquidity. Adjusted EBITDA is not an earnings measure recognized by GAAP and does not have a standardized meaning prescribed by GAAP. Management believes that Adjusted EBITDA is an appropriate measure in evaluating the Company's operating performance. Management uses Adjusted EBITDA to evaluate our ongoing operations and for internal planning and forecasting purposes. Management believes that non-GAAP financial information, when taken collectively, may be helpful to investors because it provides consistency and comparability with past financial performance. Readers are cautioned that Adjusted EBITDA should not be construed as an alternative to net income (as determined under GAAP), as an indicator of financial performance or to cash flow from operating activities (as determined under GAAP) or as a measure of liquidity and cash flow. Investors are cautioned that there are material limitations associated with the use of non-GAAP financial measures as an analytical tool. Other companies, including companies in our industry, may calculate similarly titled non-GAAP measures as tools for comparison. We attempt to compensate for these limitations by providing specific information regarding the GAAP financial measures as tools for comparison. We attempt to compensate for these limitations by providing specific information regarding the GAAP financial fr

Investors are encouraged to review the related GAAP financial measures and the reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures to their most directly comparable GAAP financial measures presented below and not rely on any single financial measure to evaluate our business.

This announcement contains key performance metrics that management of the Company utilizes to determine operational performance from period to period. These metrics include managed cases and remote neurology managed cases. We define managed cases as all technical cases Assure performs and any cases where the professional bill is from a 100% owned Assure entity and excludes cases when a global bill is presented and we calculate it based on bills presented during the relevant measurement period. We define remote neurology managed cases as a subset of managed cases where Assure's remote neurology platform is utilized and billed. Management believes that managed cases and remote neurology managed cases are important measures of the Company's operational performance because they are a consistent measurement to evaluate patient revenue streams.
